Jesus Will Come Again

Before Jesus went back to his Father in heaven, he told his disciples to go to all the nations in the world with the good news that Jesus died and rose again to save sinners. They were to baptize believers and teach them how to obey the things Jesus had first taught them.

Jesus gave the disciples a wonderful promise. He promised to be with them. Jesus said he would send his Spirit to be with them and give them the power they needed to go out and tell others about the Savior.

When Jesus went up to be with his Father in heaven, two angels came and spoke to the disciples. They reminded the disciples that Jesus would come back in the same way they had seen him go. Jesus had promised the disciples that one day he would return to earth in power and glory.

The glad disciples hurried back to Jerusalem to get ready to do the job Jesus had given them. They praised God that the Holy Spirit would come and help them tell others about the Savior, and they looked forward to Jesus' return.

Bible story based on Matthew 24:29–31; 28:18–20; Acts 1:6–12.

Dear Family,

Memory Work: Psalm 136:1a, Luke 18:16b, Luke 19:38a, Luke 22:19b, Romans 5:8b, Revelation 1:18a, John 20:31a, Acts 1:11b

This week the children learned that Jesus gave his people the job of telling others about the Savior while looking forward to his return. They learned that the Holy Spirit is with God's people, empowering them for service. The children named ways to share the good news with others and affirmed in prayer that Jesus will come again.

Projects for you & your child this week . . .

- Look for the Bible story picture on your Jesus Is the Savior family mini-poster. Have a conversation about different ways to get the message of salvation out to others.

- Plan to give a neighbor or school classmate the Come and Visit fold-up invitation (made in class).

- Help your child put together a care package and mail it overseas to a church missionary family.

- Go to the library to find information about the people and culture of the country in which that missionary family lives.

Worship together

Write down the names of missionaries sent out by your church and pray for them.

Ask the Holy Spirit to give you opportunities to tell others about the Savior.

Thank God that Jesus is coming again.
